“Diversity and Desiring of Spiritual Gifts” - 1 Corinthians 12:28-31

1. What about Paul’s metaphor of the Body has stood out to you in chapter 12? How should this metaphor impact the way we think about the local church?

2. Explain the foundational importance of Apostles, prophets, and teachers (see also Eph. 2:19-22; 4:11-12). Why is it important that we keep in mind this order of foundational priority?

3. What should the fact that not everyone will have gift of tongues (or any other gift for that matter) teach us about certain branches of Christianity that claim everyone can and should have that gift?

4. What does Paul mean when he says “earnestly desire the greater gifts”? Why is this important and what might this earnest desiring look like?

5. How might the situation in Corinth have been different had they placed a foundational importance on the right gifts? How is this a cautionary tale for us?
